By shutting out the Cleveland yesterday the Washingtons climbed back into second position in the American League race. Detroit's Tigers succumbed to the Boston Red Sox who still hold a lead of eight and a half games. Two victories were scored by the Highlanders over the St. Louis Browns, who sank further in the tail end swamp. The Hillmen have won six out of the last seven games.

To-day's Schedule.

No games scheduled. Western teams in the East.

Talk about nerve and pluck! Nearly 12,000 fans saw the Highlanders display these many qualities at American League Park yesterday in a way that will long be remembered. The New Yorks won both games from the St. Louis Browns, 16 to 9 and 7 to 0, but their achievement in the first set was remarkable for the fact that with the score 7 to 0 against them at the end of the second inning they did not let the white feather. Under acting manager Chase they kept plugging along until suddenly in the seventh inning, with the score 9 to 3 in the Browns' favor, nine fast runs were accumulated by the New Yorks and a hard earned victory was pulled out of the fire. This unexpected rally, like extremely gratifying to the populace, plucked a young man named Kutina, the Browns' first baseman, into deepest gloom, for it was his fault that the Browns were in a squarely thrown ball, which should have secured the side, that was wholly responsible for eight of these nine runs.

Young Davis, the Williams College boy, who failed in Fred's game, again fell to the wayside in the second inning of this affair, but Ray Fisher, who took his place in the box, steadied down in the next five innings and probably would have done the same if a pinch hitter had not been sent to the plate in his place. Baumgardner was a puzzle in spots, but when the crisis arrived he performed in aerial feat that spread fright and awe among the usually good natured countenances of Bench Manager George Stovall. Each team brought fourteen men into the fray, which, though dragging along for two hours and a quarter, kept the big crowd on edge all the way.

Shotten scored in the first inning of the first game. He walked, reached second on a single, and ran to third on a throw. Shotten pulled up at third, Austin Pratt's force hit and crowded the plate, while Sweeney's throw to Stump cut Pratt down at second. Chase slammed a two bagger to right in the last half, but was caught by Stump.

Six runs were chalked up for the Browns in the second inning. Williams walked and scampered to third on Compton's single to right. Daley's pass filled the bases, when Alexander threw the ball, ratted, fell all over Baumgardner's feet near the plate and Williams scored. Fisher relieved Davis and the second half was pitched by two jacks. Shotten, scoring Compton and Daley Sweeney, trying to catch Baumgardner napping at third, hurled the ball to left and Baum galloped across the plate. Shotten pulled up at third, Austin Pratt's force hit and crowded the plate, while Sweeney's throw to Stump cut Pratt down at second. Chase slammed a two bagger to right in the last half, but was caught by Stump.

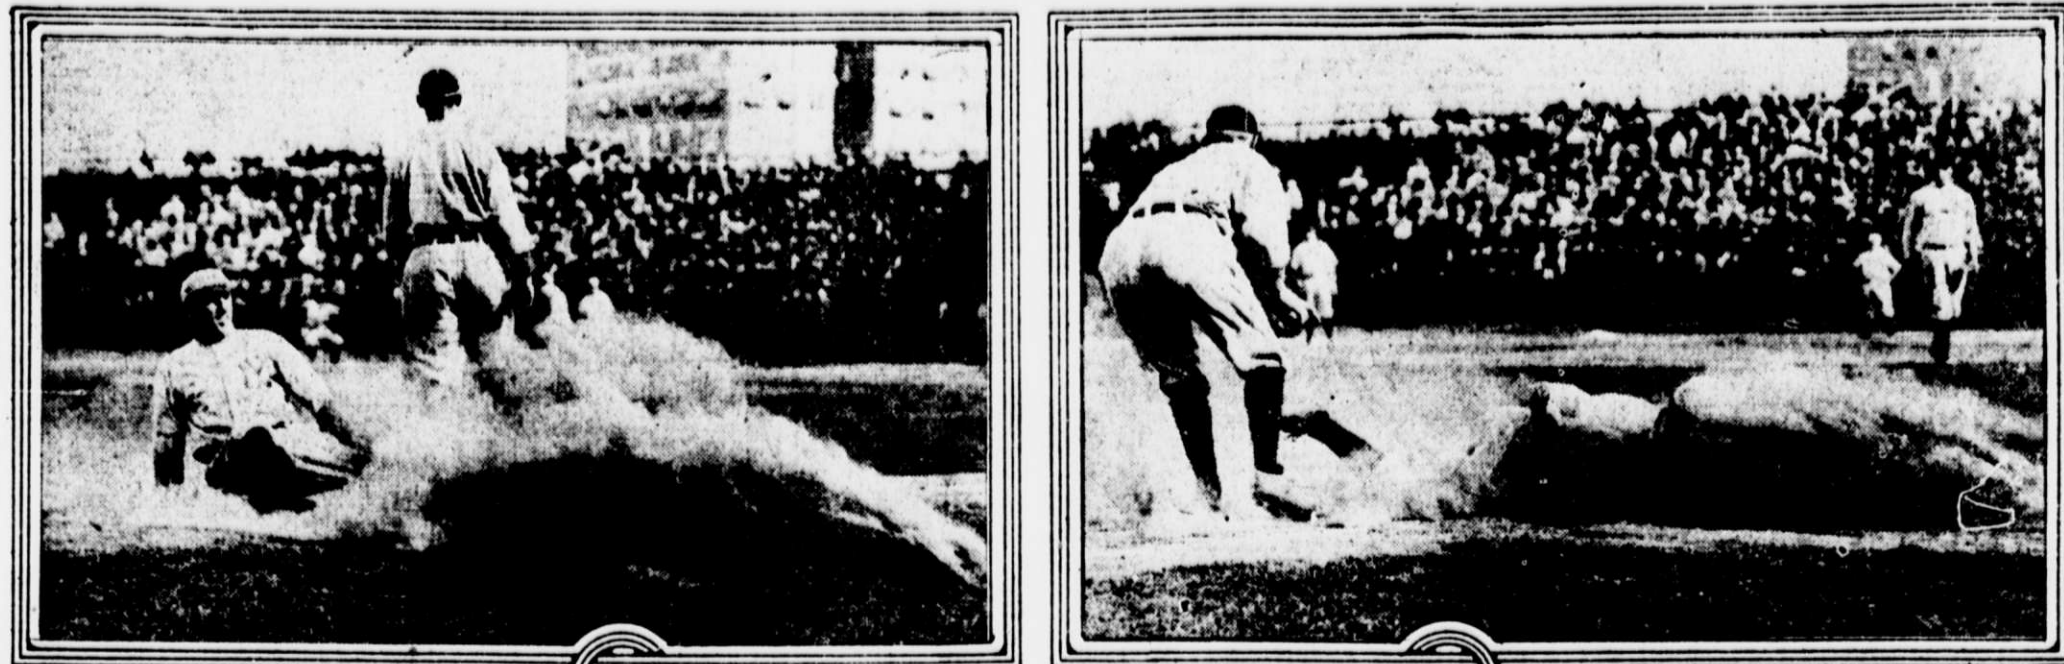

Baumgardner, fumbled in the third inning and the Hillmen scored three times on balls to Sweeney and Daniels, doubled with two infield outs, put them on base and the crowd roared. When Padlock came to time with Smith that was too hot for the pitcher. Sweeney added the plate with his spikes on this Padlock's steal. Alexander threw the double over Daley's head and Daniels scored the second tally. Zinn walked and Simmons' blazk single propelled Padlock home. Hartzell grounded to Daley and beat the throw, but Kutina got the ball to Alexander in time to shut off the pl. All of which made a difference of 7 to 2.

Williams rattled a triple past Daniels in the fifth inning and made the Browns' fifth run on Compton's slashing base hit. Pratt's double and Kutina's error netted another St. Louis run in the seventh round.

With six runs needed to tie, the New Yorks dumfounded even themselves by scoring all of the runs in the last half of the game. After Fisher made after the throw down. After Fisher threw the ball to Pratt Baumgardner hit home, walked Chase and fanned Padlock. Daniels walked to Zinn and Simmons' blazk single propelled Padlock home. Hartzell grounded to Daley and beat the throw, but Kutina got the ball to Alexander in time to shut off the pl. All of which made a difference of 7 to 2.

Just to clinch the victory the Hillmen

HOW CAN AN UMPIRE BE INFALLIBLE WHEN THE DUST FLIES?

These pictures snapped at the Hilltop during the DETROIT-NEW YORK series plainly show some of the batter's difficulties. All the plays depicted are at third base. In the upper left hand corner FALLOCH is seen sliding safely, there being no play made for him. HAL CHASE was called out after his head foremost dash in the right hand corner. TY COBB was adjudged safe in the play shown in the lower picture.

Q BOATS SECONDS APART DOWN ON LOWER BAY

Forthcoming Atlantic Y. C.
Race Week Draws Biggest Fleet Yet.

THE SPIDER IS FIRST HOME

Snelew's Early Lead Was Not Enough; Alice Noses Her
Out for Second.

Preliminaries to the annual race week of the Atlantic Yacht Club started on Gravesend Bay yesterday. Actually the regatta does not start until next Tuesday. The races yesterday brought out several boats that have been put into commission especially for the coming regatta and allowed them to get used to the first of the series races.

As a result, the largest fleet that has sailed so far this year took part in the regatta, the eighth race to count on the yacht racing championship of the lower bay. A snappy breeze from the south-west sent the craft around the different courses in excellent time and furnished the best of racing. Five of the lower bay Q boats had a wonderfully close race over a course that was made up of a reach on the starboard tack from the starting line to a mark off Bensonhurst, a bybe and a spinnaker run to Fort Hamilton, a beat to buoy No. 2 and a broad reach home.

Snelew had the best of the start. She was followed closely by Soya, Spider, Grayjack and Alice. Once on the wind, Spider and Alice forged ahead and with Snelew had a good fight to the finish line. The three boats came down almost beam and beam. Spider was the first to beat the line, covering the course in 1:56:17. Six seconds later came Alice, and Snelew was three seconds astern of the latter craft.

On corrected time, both Joy and Careless were beaten in their respective divisions of the handicap class. The former boat led home on the double, but lost on corrected time to La Cubana. M. and F. defeated Careless in the second division in the same manner. The S division was won by Dr. C. L. Austin and Mouse led home the Gravesend Bay knockabout. For the first time this year the dingies of the New York Canoe Club took part in a regatta, the winner being Viva.

W. A. Barstow announced that he had fouled Grayjack at the Port Hamilton mark and although he sailed around the course in his Soya, the boat was disqualified. The summary: SLOOPS—CLASS 8—COURSE, 11 1/2 MILES—START, 3:00.

SPRING LAKE, N. J., Aug. 17.—Dean Mathey, the Princeton collegiate tennis champion, was forced to drop out of the Casino challenge series at Spring Lake Casino this afternoon owing to an injured knee. In the third set of the championship match, Mathey was unable to move his knee and was forced to concede the match to Cragin of the West Side Tennis Club of New York, who would have him have the title this year, his knee having given out in the approaching and putting competition this afternoon for a cup offered by Manager Leon R. Riley. Miss Boyd easily winning the play-off. The twenty-six contestants approached from three given distances, ranging from 20 to 100 feet.

Miss James Boyd of New York, mother of the winner, Mrs. C. M. Boyd of Philadelphia, and Miss H. M. Ryder of Buzzards Bay took the first three places. Others competing were Miss H. E. Lavin, Mrs. F. Holder Declines the Issue
Under Playing Through Arrangement.

NEWPORT, Aug. 17.—One hundred and fifty-nine entries for the annual lawn tennis championship to be begun at the Casino on Monday have been drawn this afternoon by Robert D. Wrenn, president of the association, and Palmer Prosser and A. L. Hoskins of the committee. There were forty-three less entries than last year, which is explained by the request of the association that only those who had serious intentions enter and that the consolation round be eliminated. All the best players in the country have entered save William A. Larned, the present champion.

According to the draw it looks as if McLaughlin might have a fairly clear field down to the finals, with Little, Touchard, Clothier, Behr and Bundy fighting it out in the lower half. The drawings:
